South Jordan City Council Hosts a Mulligans Bond Payoff Party

SOUTH JORDAN, UT – On April 24 the South Jordan City Council paid off the Mulligans bond totaling $4,652,761.00. Paying off the bond early will save $1.8 million in interest costs over the life of the bond which is 14 years. Eliminating Mulligan’s financial obligations will allow the City to retain the center as a golf course and recreation center and secures a positive cash-flow, which will pay for operations and all future improvements to the facility. To celebrate, the council is hosting a party at Mulligans on June 3. Join us for free cake, giveaways, free games and half price off golf and games services.

“After extensive consideration and public input, the council has determined to retire the debt at Mulligans. A paid off Mulligans bond secures a positive cash-flow, which will pay for all future improvements. No longer requiring any tax-payer subsidy, Mulligans will be self-sustaining open space for many years ahead,” said South Jordan City Mayor Dave Alvord.

The Mulligans bond payoff party is the kickoff to the Country Fest celebration taking place June 4-6.
